ANNUAL THIRD SEYDER

with special musical guests

4:30 p.m.
Sala Caboto, Villa Colombo
40 Playfair Avenue

Dear friends,

We are often asked, "Why a Third Seyder? I've already had two Seyders with my family." I'll tell you why. It's a chance for us to get together, as a community, to celebrate this important festival of freedom.

Through the pages of our secular progressive Haggodeh, we revisit the traditions of Passover with interpretations that are relevant to today's contemporary society. We acknowledge that the Exodus story is a beloved legend, rather than a recounting of historical fact, and we see it as an example of the many courageous struggles from oppression toward liberation throughout history.

We invite you and your family to join us this year and share a traditional Passover meal – to break matze together – to listen to Di Fir Kashes (the Four Questions) and hear the answers – to recite both the ancient and the modern-day plagues – to drink four symbolic toasts to our children, peace and continuity and to honour those who have resisted – to enjoy the richness of our cultural heritage as a community and to pledge to work towards a better world – Dayenu! (It Would Be Enough).

Music is an integral part of our celebration and we are delighted to welcome back David Wall to lead the singing. We are also honoured to have the Toronto Jewish Folk Choir participate in our Seyder this year with musical selections commemorating the historic and heroic Warsaw Ghetto Uprising, as we remember and honour all forms of resistance.

We invite you to be a part of this important highlight of our 2010 programming season.

Sholem,
Maxine Hermolin
